Local delivery

We're proud to offer jobsite and residential delivery for all customers within Western Washington. Our careful loading and transport of materials from the millhouse will save you time and effort, so you can focus on getting each project done on time.

Priority timelines

As fellow Islanders who understand the frustration of having to wait for specialty items, we prioritize orders placed by local contractors, architects, interior designers, and residents. Expect quality product delivered on time, every time.

Quantity discounts

Planning for substantially sized projects? Keep in mind that our online product prices do not reflect discounts offered for larger orders. Contact us for more details.

Custom milling

As Vertical Grain Douglas Fir specialists, we precision mill, hand inspect, and kiln dry each piece of wood coming through our doors. From historic rebuilds to modern projects, our materials are cut to perfection with special profiles offered, and always made to order.

As fifth generation millworkers, we're passionate about our product and love what we do. Give us a call or send us an email, and let's get started on your next big project.

"I had an exceptional experience with Whidbey Millhouse! Bret, Maverick, and staff were incredibly friendly and knowledgeable, taking the time to show me all of my options and answer all of my questions. Matching my historical building's 3 1/4" VG Fir flooring with perfectly clear, fine grain material was impressive. I was especially impressed by the long lengths, precision of their cuts, and the care they took to properly season the lumber. I highly recommend Whidbey Millhouse for anyone looking for the best in lumber and customer service."
